Dear Jimilu:

Many thanks for your letter of March 7. We are very much interested in the possibility of providing housing for artists and have discussed it specifically in connection with a cultural center in Columbia which we think of as providing housing, studios and shops for artists and musicians. I have passed your letter along to Wallace Hamilton who is director of institutional development for Columbia. When our plans are a little further advanced he'll be in touch with you.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

James W. Rouse
